

AUSTRALASIAN JOURNAL OF REGIONAL STUDIES

CALL FOR EDITORS

The Australasian Journal of Regional Studies represents a key component of ANZRS AI.

Current editors, Professor Bruce Wilson and Emeritus Professor Mike Hefferan, have served in this role with distinction since 2015. They have advised that they will step down at the end of 2018.

To facilitate the transfer of responsibilities, confidential nominations are called for an editorial team to take over at the start of 2019, for an initial period of three years.

Expressions of interest from prospective editors can be sent in the first instance to Paul Dalziel providing details as considered necessary. A decision on appointment of a new editorial team will be made by the ANZRS AI Council.

It is envisaged that successful nominees would be involved in the final edition for 2018 before formally taking over in the start of the following year. The current editors would be pleased to respond to any queries that prospective editors might have about current processes and time commitments.

The email address is paul.dalziel@lincoln.ac.nz. Expressions of interest need to be received by 30 June 2018.
